

Cheyanna C. Vitelle-Rosado

1. What did the track title make you expect?

That the song would be about someone lost in the world.

2. After hearing the track, what are your thoughts?

I absolutely loved the track! It left me feeling happy, positive, determined, and inspired. Music speaks to me in intense ways so for me, the song spoke volumes. I feel the song is neutral in the sense that anyone can listen to it and feel something whether it's good or bad. However for me it was great and there were good vibes all around.

3. What emotions did the track make you feel?

The track made me feel happy and determined. It felt like the song was advising and putting me at ease. Music is a great way to speak to others and being someone with severe depression music always helps me and a song like this pulls me right out of a depressed mood instantly and sets me back to me and I'm left feeling not so alone anymore and with a positive and determined mindset.

4. How do you feel tied? Disconnected to the track?

I feel tied with the track because it makes me feel like the song is personal and was made for me because of how it made me feel and the song was also very vivid to me, like I'm there. It makes me feel like I am the one on the bike finding myself.

5. Did the track make you think a lot? Or not at all? Explain.

The track definitely made me think a lot because it was so vivid for me, it makes me feel or think of colors like if I can see them. I can envision so many things and when I think, I think of positivity, I feel at ease, and super happy.

6. What does the track make you think of?

After hearing the track I feel like the song is about someone who is lost in the world trying to find their way. I envision someone riding a bike at night trying to clear their head. The stars are out and the sky is clear and filled with vibrant colors. As the person is riding their bike, they go on a journey of racing thoughts, but towards the end they find serenity and peace because they took the time for themselves to give them the time they needed to think and then realize all they needed to be happy with who they are and they are enough and have a lot to offer the world. I feel like the song is telling you that no matter how hard life gets, all you need is to love you and there is always light at the end of the tunnel.

7. What are your motives behind the piece you've created?

My motive behind my piece was to show my visualization when I was listening to the track. I also wanted to create a piece that explains the story I imagined and my feelings as well.

8. Why did you make your piece in this specific way?

I made my piece this way because I wanted to tell a story that represented the song in the way I experienced it, and although everyone may or may not have the same experience, my hope for my piece is to give the feeling of beauty, positivity, determination, and happiness. Hopefully it inspires others too.

9. Do you think the track mixed with your piece/medium could inspire your future work? (New style/focus)

The great thing about makeup is that you can always create something new. When I was asked to be part of this thesis I didn't expect to be so inspired. I go through moments where I doubt my work and my talent and when I sat down to listen to the song and try to think of something to create I was instantly inspired. I wanted to stop the song and go create something. I can honestly say that music has/will help me to be inspired in the future . If it wasn't for my brother allowing me to be part of this, I don't think I would've known that music would inspire me so much with my work. So Christian, thank you for giving me inspiration always <3

10. What does your piece make you think of?

My piece makes me think of EUPHORIA; the sense of inner peace that can ultimately feel euphoric.

11. Does your piece have to communicate with everyone? Or only to you?

My piece does not need to communicate with everyone, however I think everyone who sees my piece may or may not have different feelings or ideas towards it, and love to hear different views on something I've made.

12. What do you think my motives were behind the track?

I think you were trying to make a song that spoke to everyone in a different way, I don't think you wanted us all to hear or feel the same thinking, however I do think you wanted it to speak to us. With everything going on in the world I think you chose us to create something to your song to show all the different emotions, creativity and feedback you will get. To me this is symbolic because now we are all eager to know what you thought or what everyone created and if the world would stop and listen to others it would be better. You have created a scenario that shows how we are all created different and that's beautiful, your song was created to be different to everyone. You've allowed us to be a part of something that allows us to create and inspire <3